KGB double agent to tout book

EAST BERLIN — One of the Soviet Union's most successful spies known to have operated in West Germany will give a news conference in East Berlin this month to launch his memoirs, a Western publisher said.

The Hamburg publisher Rasch and Roehrig yesterday invited East Berlin journalists to a March 12 news conference by Heinz Felfe to launch his book, "In Service of the Adversary."

Mr. Felfe, now 68, led West Germany's BND counterespionage service for 10 years in the 1950s and 1960s before being arrested as an agent of the Soviet KGB intelligence service. He was arrested in 1961 and sentenced to 15 years in jail, but was released in 1969 in an East-West spy swap.
